Tea Selection

DRAGON PEARL JASMINE (SCENTED GREEN TEA)

5.5

Region: Guangxi Province, China

Dragon Pearl Jasmine, also known as "Buddha Tears" are scented six times with Jasmine blossoms to produce a rich and distinctive floral fragrance. Hot water during the infusion unravels each hand-rolled tea pearl and releases its sweet Jasmine floral flavour that lingers into a pleasantly persistent long after-taste.

DRAGON WELL (CHINESE GREEN TEA)

7.0

Region: Zhejiang Province, China

Dragon Well or 'Long Ching' is arguably the most famous Chinese green tea gaining imperial status in the Qing Dynasty. Each handpicked leaf is pan-fired by skilled tea masters from techniques handed down from centuries ago. Delicate craftsmanship produces smooth flattened leaves with a refreshing green, buttery, crisp taste.

PU ERH (BLACK TEA)

6.0

Region: Yunnan Province, China

Full-bodied fermented tea brewing a dark and glossy liquor in appearance. Each sip produces a mellow smooth earthy flavour with a subtle hint of smoky aromas in after taste. Pu Erh is commonly referred to as the "wine of tea" and our current selection has been aged for 6 years to develop its current refined smooth flavour.

BIG RED ROBE (OOLONG TEA)

7.0

Region: Fujian Province, China

The "coffee lover's" tea. Produced from the original bushes in the Wuyi mountains - also the world's most expensive tea. This prestigious tea smoothly fills the palate with its refined complexity of rocky minerals, roasted nutty fragrances and a hint of smokiness.

IRON GODDESS (CHINESE GREEN TEA)

5.5

Region: Anxi Province, China

'Tie Guan Yin', named after the Chinese Goddess of Mercy is smooth and subtle in flavour. Each sip is sweet and refreshing, with a subtle release of delicate floral aromas filling your palate leaving a pleasant soothing and relaxing after taste. 'Tie Guan Yin', from the Anxi province, is recognised as one of the top 10 most famous teas of China.

JAPANESE GENMAICHA (MATCHA-IRI)

4.0

A combination of Genmaicha and Matcha. The Matcha powder lightly coats the Sencha leaves and rice, adding a mellow taste to Genmaicha's delicious roasted flavour and makes the tea a more pure grassy green colour.

JAPANESE SENCHA (GREEN TEA)

7.0

Sencha has the perfect balance and harmony of refreshing aroma, mellow flavour and bitter after taste. When brewed, Sencha has a lovely golden yellow green colour.
